Religion; and for the defence of our Kingdomes from malignants: and their Adherents; Have after mature deliberation, thought expedient to enter into a solemne and mutual Covenant with our Kingdom of England, for the defence of the true Protestant Reformed Religion in the Kirke of Scotland, and the Reformation of Religion in the Kirke of England according to the Word of God, the example of the Reformed Kirken

And such as may bring the Kirke of God in both Kingdomes to the nearest Conjunction, and vniformitie in Religion and Church Government. And, siclike to preserve and defend the Rights and Privileges of our Parliament, and Liberties of our Kingdomes respective. And to preserve and defend our Person and Au-thoritie, in the prosecution of the said true Religion: and Liberties of our said Kingdomes. And to observe the Articles of the late Treatie and Peace betwix the two Nations. And so much, and as shall enter into this Covenant, in the maintaining and pursuing thereof, as the same more fully propoerts.

Which as it will be a comfort, and in-couragement

concoment to all Christians who love God, and love true Religion, good loyall Subiects, who truly love Us, and to all true Patriots, who care for the Liberte of their Country.

So doubtlesse will exasperate and en-rage the said Papists, Prelates, Malig-nantes, and other Adversaries, to persecute and execute all this mischief and cruelty they can against Uske and Kingdome, as well as the other Kingdomes of England and Irelande.

For preventing thereof, the Estates of this our Kingdome (according to the cus-tome of our Democrall, Convention of our Estates, and of our Parliaments in former Times of the like exigence) have resolved to put this our said Kingdome, with all possible speed, in a present posture of defence.

And for the better safety and security thereof have Statute and Ordained, and hereby Statutes and Ordaines, that im-mediatly after publication hereof, all the fencible persons within this our Kingdome of Scotland betwixt sixteen and sixty yeares of Age, of whatsoever quality, ranke or degree, shall provide themselves with fourtie dayes provision, and
